On Friday afternoon we received orders to equip the men and get away by two o'clock Saturday morning. We managed to do it although we were going the whole time we entrained about 1 o'clock that morning and arrived here in Alexandria this morning about nine we came right up to the ships side and without stopping, disembarked and have spent the rest of the day in getting on stores it is about 5.30 now and we expect to sail any time. We have not heard much about the fighting up at Ypres but we have there has been very heavy casualties, anybody we am still wounded.

Monday 3/5/15

We passed Crete last night and have been passing islands ever since.

The men have an awful scramble for their food but we have good food in the saloon. The men are all happy and keen on getting there. at Alexandria we took on some rifles from the front and one man who had a good rifle came up and asked to change it for one with blade on. The Australians on board
