Kia Ora,

Our libraries welcome thousands of members of our diverse wider community every day, providing a special space to read, relax, learn and connect.

Over the next few months, there are plenty of opportunities to explore and celebrate the wonderful range of cultures – and the special communities – in Otatahi-Christchurch. We are hosting many amazing activities – through books, poetry, music, visual art and live performances – that bring the wider world closer to us all.

Among the highlights are several exceptional exhibitions, and related talks and events, including the Children's Holocaust Memorial, Christchurch Pride Week, and Talanoa|Measina – Sharing our stories from the Pasifika community.

An array of youth-focused activities that look at the future will also be on offer. All of these can open our minds to fresh experiences through the eyes of others.

We can help satisfy your curiosity and also help you to learn new skills through the remarkable range of the latest technologies at our libraries such as Robotics, 3D printing, and music recording and video editing at Tūranga. With our many exciting programmes for all ages, you can certainly get creative and be innovative.

With so much to explore across our libraries network, our wonderful staff are here to help you make the most of your experience. So step into your local library. You have so much to gain as you laugh and learn, and make new community – and cultural – connections.

Homework Help

When there's homework to be done or you need to do some research for speech or a school project, a great starting place is an encyclopaedia. Luckily, this doesn't mean looking through a large number of books – just take a look at the eResources on our website. We have you covered from pre-school to high school and beyond!

World Book and Britannica Library both have age appropriate material. Credo Reference is an excellent and helpful resource to use with interactive mind maps.

If you have no homework why not look up some fun facts?

Did you know...

The lyrebird can mimic almost any sounds it hears, other birds, animals or even mechanical sounds like chainsaws.

J is the only letter not found on the Periodic Table.

Queen Elizabeth II trained as a mechanic.

The unicorn is the national animal of Scotland.

Melbourne was almost called Batmania after one of its founders, John Batman.

The Canary Islands are named after dogs not birds.

Throughout Pride Week, we’ll be holding a Clothes Swap for teens (and those a little bit older).

Donate!

Wardrobe too full? Drawers overflowing? We’ve got the perfect opportunity for you to channel Marie Kondo and donate your clean, tidy clothing to a great cause.

Collect any items (clothing and accessories – including shoes) you’d be happy to pass on, and drop them off at participating libraries.

Te Hāpua: Halswell Centre

Drop Off by Sunday 8 March

South Library

Drop Off after Sunday 8 March

Discover!

Clothes, shoes, accessories galore!

Discover your new favourite outfit at our Clothes Swap for teens. Everyone’s invited! You never know what treasures you’ll find!

Ilam site for Teachers College opened 50 years ago!

The Teachers College in Christchurch originally operated from the Normal School at the corner of Montreal and Kilmore Streets from 1873. Eventually, the College required its own site and the foundation stone was laid in 1924 on the corner of Montreal and Peterborough Streets.

Students from the Normal School were transferred to Elmwood in 1954, and the Post Primary Department of the Teachers College then took over this building.

By the 1960s these sites were becoming overcrowded and out dated. It was decided to build at Ilam, not far from where the University of Canterbury was also relocating to.

The new Teachers College opened 50 years ago on 22 April 1970. Initially, this was just the Secondary Division with the Primary Division remaining in town until the late 1970s, when the rest of the Ilam site was completed.

Community Collaboration

Dreidel Workshop

We recently held a dreidel workshop at Tūranga which incorporated the use of Adobe Creative Suite and our laser cutter. Dreidels are a spinning top game which is played during the Jewish holiday of Chanukah.

Sid (pictured here), a member of the Jewish community and a library regular, was so excited by how the laser cutter worked. The look on his face says it all!
