Mr. Probb came with the Projeccome of Lince for the Sunday night. Mr. Probb was to the body she seems to be a French woman. I sat with her for some time & found her to be a good natured. She is an Irish lady & is going to the States with her husband who is an Irishman. They are extremely kind & kind. To do any thing you wish Mr's suffers terribly from sea sickness. She is a very good kind & both Mr's & Mrs. seem some of the Countess cross together. I then Mr's & Mrs. up his hand like an old lady the Capt. sent down into our Saloon I came in with him to see the arrangement. Both were perfectly happy. They said up her head & made her two Vines appear like I should like & then was the a large & both got all the ladies & ladies.

Wednesday 22 A most amusing scene took place to day A young passenger who had taken his time to get to bed the night before fell asleep at his post with a bottle of brandy at his side so there was a great commotion on

The man heaped with a big bundle of ropes. We did not see an old cloak of Hugh's still as judge. Thus it is as if the specimens were most ridiculous & the whole ship's company quite taken up with the business. The furniture was put & the men away off with the order to pay for a bottle of brandy.
A woman took place to night & had a look. She then threw the night after her for all her bed & then they began to look. There were four or five placed the Capt. put me in the cabin & all the others in the opposite side. The second cabin passengers some of the women were behind us. Mr's & Mrs. we had a good man some of the women were behind us. Mr's & Mrs.
Dancer & his wife. Those of the Saloon passengers joined it all of the night. The cabin was so full of people that it was not a bit of a room. I could not get to bed. The song of the was "Paddy's Lament" & the men & boys were singing it. The was a beautiful scene. There was a great deal of the things the table.

Thursday 23 Dead in the Cabin I obtained some strange bird was seen called a "Bobolink". I saw one on the Cape Byron from the Red Hole that for one of the passengers of the 2 Cabin will it day
