said Mr Lea took his departure! It was so rough! Brooke Adams face is now quite well - Mrs was such screaming yesterday time for the plates mess stuff of Brain Contents Soup every where Mutton Mashing every different way Ship quite Calm I sat awhile & Dymond to return but Ship Carefully kept her with Mrs Appleton came for a little also In the Evening Ship Roll came & Mr Jefferson read a London of Mr Cheyne's sermons On "The Love of Christ" His sermons are so simple & clear I like them Ship Quite enjoyed it, She is a good one, he could not hold on Glasses, even of Iced Lemonade to drink as it was cold Supper Mutton - The Capt is better to night the boil has broken on his eyebrow & I hope he will soon be out amongst us again

Monday 24 2 Bells Mr Jefferson read some of the Psalms out on deck & then we had a nice walk George caught a Bird called a Booby & a Cape Pigeon Neat Cabin & Saloon then scrubbed down I am glad to say the Capt is better to day I went to Sit with him & Red My selection on this chair he was quite pleased as it suited his head to rights Hugh came to say reserved Seats had been taken Capt Lowry & the Married Mans department for the Ladies & Gentlemen We hope they will go down to hear their Readings which they had been preparing for a week We were quite glad that be went May had the Place done up so comfortable plenty of Coms & Lamps hung all round The platform hung with a Blue flag & paper letters Entwined very nicely the Motto Trust in our God on a Anchor in the Middle I think I shall enclose a programme that you may see how our men employed their leisure hours Really they got on remarkably well & we enjoyed our Dinner very much There was an eclipse of the Moon to night some went on deck to see it but were disappointed Dark and Mist beautifully about time after I did go up at Three Bells to get a Seat comfortably but spiritually too

Tuesday 25 Bells Mr Jefferson read some of Capt Cook's Voyages Morning & Evening Went on deck Birds to see following Pintail Gony, grey Peterel Cape Pigeon & Booby Afternoon we were called up to see by Jacky at looked like the Side of a new Ship at first & looked as the Ship stood on it changed its appearance every Minute When I next looked it was like two mountains one much higher than the other & the lower one seemed to have a Mansion on the top of it as if on the look out, it was Tristan de Acunha more like snow than ice it was 40 miles off when we saw it first & the Capt kindly ordered the Ship to be altered so that we might get near it he told me he would have sent a Boat with who ever should like to go but the men on deck mostly stayed here I said I should like to go but Hugh told me to go so I did
