

taste another drop as long as I am out here, if ever I do at all.

We often talk old times over me & Albert for he is here still & think we shall stick together for a time at least. The hills are still covered with snow but it rather I hope is coming down here soon, when he can get away so I may perhaps see him. I went to town the other evening & had dinner with Mrs. T. she likes to here of the Pertenhall folks & wished me to call & see her any time I was in town she wished to be remembered to you & now I must conclude for I am going to write a sheet to Ma Love to all

Believe me
