

26th July 1864 Tuesday.
 Day fine with occasional showers Made a house wife out of the leg of a pair of old trousers of Meeks and part of an old shirt of my own. Had a game of Quits with Weir, Howell and Morley

27th July 1864 Wednesday Long 37. 17. Lat. 44. 46.
 Morning fine glass low. about dinner time it commenced blowing, we shipped a few seas, and it rained for the remainder of the day, before night we had quite a gale from the westward.

I made a muffler out of the remains of an old flannel shirt.

Mac at carpenter work all day Howell and Meek washing clothes in their cabin

The boy Harry fell down the fore hatch and cut his head open on the chime of a water cask.

East has been ill the last few days, so he has not been confined in irons - Today he was on the poop for an hour.
