

tired of listening, for three hours, without a note the words fell from out of his inexhaustable stockhouse, he is well versed in scripture & scripture history, he has traveled throughout the holy land, visiting most of the places of interest mentioned in the gospels, so that he was the more interesting, he closed up with singing a pleasant song.

March 29. Wednesday, trade fair, ^{poor} fine A. M. to calm a.m. to Mr Brown's in the evening, talking over news from the diggings, & lectures & etc, till a late hour, Home & to rest!

March 30. Thursday, poor. Fine, R. & P.M.
Trade brisk, up town & made some purchases at L. E. H. & C. & P. & Co.. a.m' to the mechanics in the evening to look over the home papers.

March 31. Friday, fine, R. & calmed down towards evening, I blew stg from the R. W. after 11 P.M. Trade fair, visiting up & getting ready for Saturday. In the evening we swept the chimney, & scrubbed out our little room, & quite a spree over it.

April 1. Saturday, fine, by 8. A. M. a ride to R. & towards town. busy, up down hunting up money a.m. closed late, I shop in nice dress April 2. ~~Sunday~~, fine, fresh, lovely day, by 8. A. M. breakfast early, cleaned up & walked up the Lincoln Rd. to spend the day, at Dr Harrington's He went to the Asylum, to hear Mr. Tolleson Preach; A very nice sermon, from a portion of the Gospel for the day, "he that believeth these things shall never see death." He explained it well, & the right meaning of it, I said that there was three kinds of death, 1st spiritual death, meaning those who lived on in sin,— never caring for their soul's welfare, whs are in a sense dead, though yet living 2nd natural death, meaning the period of our existence when the soul leaves the body, when it puts off mortality, & puts on immortality. in this part he pictured two death bed scenes one of a worldly man, & another of a man whose sole dependence was in his God. 3rd of Immortal death & damnation the worst of all, because all hope is flown.