

to do much, but the women seemed to be the hardest worked, carrying everything on their heads.

They were not very good looking to be sure, we saw a lot of nice girls at work in a tailors shop. The lower class of men were getting but thin trousers & shirts, but the nobles were quite dandies. All of them smoked. We posted our letters in the town which was or is called Santa Potos. There was an English Hotel, there, also an English Photographer. We took in here 300 tops of Goul. The climate seemed delightful. I eat rather too many oranges although I was careful, but my stomach was not quite strong enough. The distance from Teneriffe to Plymouth is 1430 miles. At night we had a bit of dancing, I believe I was one of the first two to start, I was also the first to dance with a woman. It made me rather giddy.

Week.]

FEBRUARY, 1885.

Thursday 5 (36-329)

29.	16
13.	51
	287

Friday 6 (37-328)

33.	08
17.	23
	294

Saturday 7 (38-327) Half-Quarter Day.

36.	32
21.	46
	300