Rouville 5 - 30 a.m.

Rode along the ppple line to the Selle to see if any barges at fairly long ride, all in good order. Went over to our brigade camp in evening. Nothing starting on there so came home to our own camp early.

Expect to go on leave in a fortnight as cables have to be up for a dinner.

I have landed a new camera today from Arthur Clifton an ensign.

Rouville 6 - 30 a.m.

On guard all the night (after today), only on for 6 hrs so not a bad job.

The did a little boozing in the evening until dark. After that we took all day round the camp fire blowing what they were going to do when the war was over & each let one giving their opinion of when peace would be declared majority said war would run on until the end of 1918.
