

I think we are going to Fremantle instead of Albany. It is still cold and rough. One of the boats with us has munition workers on board (the Suffolk).

May 16th. To-day I got a good view of all the ships with us. There are 10 others besides ourselves and the Encounter. The two destroyers there was one with the transports from Melbourne) had to put back as the sea was too rough for them. This was a day or two ago.

We had our identification discs issued to us to-day.

May 17th. Nothing of importance to-day only rough seas and a cold wind.

May 18th. Ditto

May 19th. One of the destroyers has caught up to us again. ~~It is a~~

May 20th. This morning there is another war-ship with us.

May 21st. Six o'clock we got a glimpse of Western Australia.

10 o'clock anchored outside the harbour at Fremantle.

May 22nd. Saw either a seal or else a sea lion near the boat. Went along side wharf at 12 o'clock and
