I hope you don't mind me speaking of your friends in this manner, dear, but I feel just like giving someone a dig when I think that I am so far away from you.

Well dear I have not much time left, so will have to hurry up. Many thanks dear, for the birthday card I received it right on time for to-day's the day.

I was very pleased also with that little snap of yourself. It is just lovely.
