

great attack was made
by the Turks under Amir von Landau
and was repulsed with heavy loss the dead
in some places being
five and six feet
deep. Friday, Saturday, a Sunday, a German
or Turk officer was in
under the white flag
and today an armistice from 4:30 till 5 has been arranged to bury the dead so everything is quiet now.

On Saturday
we had a few shells
over us and one or two men were hit. We have call to bury in
"dugouts" as the shells come down at a
steep angle and fall
first in the right place sweep the side of the hill from top to bottom so

that sometimes we have to duck. On Saturday a tender
which acts as tender
was anchored just off
the beach with steam
down, about a dozen
engineers were working on her, there were about half a dozen
shrapnel in great
succession over her
and they are right into her, making a great old plating but not being hit apparently she would not hold
apparently. a launch
was sent out to her
and the engineers
sprung off her life
boats. ~~Sunday~~
There was a submarine sight on Saturday all
the boats suddenly
hoisting anchor and
