opinion as there were several camera men there when we marched past Mr. Churchill.

I note the addresses of relatives in England - Scotland you sent in your letter of 2 May. Who knows - I may yet see them. The war isn't over yet!

Well, two weeks or so ago while I was here on leave for part of an afternoon I had afternoon tea with Miss Peely in her flat on Floor 3. While I sipped my tea, I read a long & interesting letter from Colman Drake: it had arrived only that day & on the very first page Colman was enquiring after me. (He had written the letter to Miss Peely: they are old friends.) Colman had been for a holiday to New York & Chicago & likes his job in the Air Force at Ottawa. I gave Edna
