

-mids from Cairo & had supper at a table out of doors under green trees.
I did well on two fried eggs, potato chips, fried tomatoes & onions, bread & butter & tea. It was very pleasant, in the cool of the evening.

Well, I didn't expect to get my leave to Palestine as I had missed it while in hospital. However, it was "gacked up" - to use an army term - & I found myself in charge of 22 others from our
