playing & bayonets glinting in the sun. Our unit put on the best show so we were told. Miss Keeby was there, sitting among the knobs. I saw her when we did "eyes right!"
So Isabel sat near the General in Kotorina & saw the scars on his neck. I have seen them too. The General had a very lucky escape last year when he was wounded by bomb splinters.

Tomorrow morning at 8.30 I go up for my second interview. If I pass, it should be only a few days before I am training at O.C.T.U.

This letter will of necessity be brief as I am very busy. I will comment
