

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Pages
List of Illustrations .. ..
List of Abbreviations .. ..
Preface .. ..
Chapter I: The Origin and Growth of the Canterbury Public Library to 1878.	1-22

Origin of mechanics' institutes; first attempt in Christchurch, 1852; successful attempt, 1859; Provincial Council grant; precarious early years; erection of building, 1863; further financial difficulties; change to Literary Institute; improvements and innovations; Provincial Council investigations; the Canterbury Museum and Library Ordinance, 1870; establishment of Canterbury College, 1873; negotiations for transfer of Literary Institute to the Province; deed of transfer, 1873; control by Canterbury College.

Chapter II: The Public Library under Canterbury College, 1878-1913.	23-53
----------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------

Comparison of Auckland and Christchurch libraries; endowment of Public Library, 1872; difficulties of Board of Governors; attempt to transfer Library to the City, 1883; public interest aroused; the "Lyttelton Times" and the library question, 1884; the opinion of the Hon. W. Rolleston; conference between the Board of Governors and the City Council; a survey of the growth of the Library to 1906; financial difficulties, 1908; City Council's attitude; declaratory judgement, 1912; arrival of Mr. E.J. Bell.

Chapter III: From College Council to City Council, 1913-1948.	54-79
----------------------------------------------------------------------	-------

Result of conference between City Council and Board of Governors; library improvements, 1913-25; further financial difficulties, 1929; visit of Dr. F.P. Keppel in 1935; issue of Canterbury Public Library Journal in 1935; opinion of the Prime Minister, 1935; first City Council grant, 1936; findings of Special Committee, 1936; College deputations to City Council, 1940; two suggestions for the future; further City Council grants; the question of control is reopened on the conclusion of the war; a compromise on the endowment question; Canterbury Public Library Act, 1948; the transfer of control; assessment of responsibility.